A Walk to Remember

A Once in a Lifetime Journey . . .

As we enter the doors of Ludlow High School, we begin a journey that walks us from adolescence into adulthood. Inside are the teachers, friends, and classmates with whom we engage in school activities such as academics, sports, and pep rallies. These individuals inspire, motivate, and challenge us, which inevitably shapes the person we are as we leave our high school career behind. Hence, as we exit these same doors into the next chapter in our lives, we will know that the past four years were, clearly, a walk to remember.

Student Life

On August 30, 2005, the students and faculty of Ludlow High walked through the doors knowing that along with a new school year comes a fresh new start. An uproar of school spirit spread throughout the student body like a contagious disease following the fall pep rally. Despite many changes at LHS this year, one thing stayed the same; the camaraderie between the students and faculty remained strong. Unfortunately, early in the year LHS bid farewell to Señor Paulo Zina after his ten years of service to the school community. Four teachers also announced their retirement. Each year brings new memories and experiences that will last a lifetime. The school year of 2005-2006 was no different.

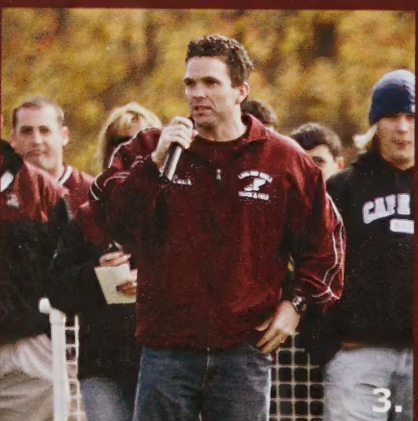

1. The U.S. flag waves proudly over the LHS complex on a crisp October day.

2. Excited LHS students anxiously await the start of the pep rally while holding signs for the senior cheerleaders.

4. Senior Clarence Kauila suits up as the lion and enthusiastically pumps up the student body into an uproar at the second annual fall sports pep rally.

5. Students at Ludlow High School pack the stands ready to cheer on their favorite athletes for the fall season.

6. Senior varsity cheerleaders Leigh-Ann Malke, Monique Goodrow, and Nicole Libiszewski get ready to inspire the crowd with breathtaking routines.

7. The boys' soccer team bonds together and shows team spirit for the crowd as the captains and senior athletes are recognized.

8. Studlow members John Barlow, Benjamin Gagne, Ryan Greene, Mike Goodreau, Zachary Zina, Jeffrey Richards, Jacob Alves, Brett Provost, and Ian Thompson decorate themselves with maroon body paint.

School Spirit

"Ludlow: Stand Up, Let's Go, Yell: L-H-S!"

Walking into a new school year, the student body of Ludlow High School caught a contagious disease known as school spirit. On a crisp, autumn afternoon all fall sports were honored along with all respective captains and senior athletes at the second annual fall sports pep rally. The roaring band displayed its musical talents, and a series of inspiring routines was performed by the varsity cheerleaders along side the mascot, who encouraged the crowd to go wild. Studlow, a rambunctious group of students who show their support for athletic teams in a colorful manner, were also in attendance. The student body's energy level was lifted even higher when Mr. Brian Walsh took over the mic and showed off his impressive beat boxing skills. This memorable pep rally held in the LHS complex, successfully put students' school spirit into full swing.

School Evolves As

Times Change

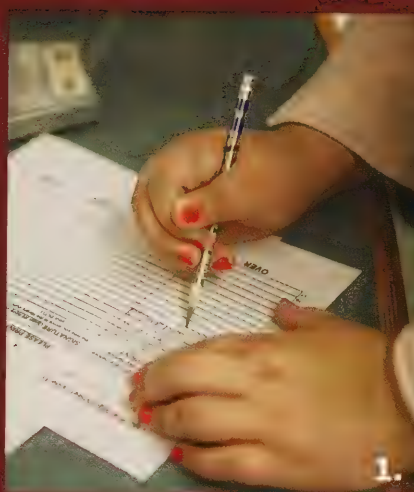

Unfamiliar freshman faces were not the only new arrivals at Ludlow High this year; among the increasing student body, came a myriad of new changes. Due to an unwelcome budget cut, students were expected to pay a fifty-dollar fee to participate in clubs and organizations. In addition, a new point-of-sale method to pay for lunch was implemented in the cafeteria to speed up the purchasing process. The Town of Ludlow also constructed its own community television room in what was once the media room of Ludlow High. Student council advisor, Mr. Brian Bylicki, along with student council, purchased maroon and white bracelets to reward students for acts of kindness. Another change students welcomed was the opening of a one-way road along the tennis courts to morning commuters. For the returning student body, these unexpected changes caused both positive and negative reactions.

1. Library sign-ups are easier with a pass stamped by a machine.
2. Making an exit into an entrance put a foot on the gas, and ultimately, sped up the morning route.
3. The opening of the television studio changed the channel to students' budget cut woes.
4. The installation of the point-of-sale system in the cafeteria made managing money easier by the push of a button.
5. A memorial bench was placed in the front of the school to honor students who died while part of the school community.
6. In order to reward students for acts of kindness, student council handed out maroon and white wrist bands to improve the school climate. Junior Kristine Midura said, "I feel students really wanted a bracelet and worked for it."
7. Instead of the school store occupying its own classroom, this year it was put on wheels, which set the year off on the right track with a new math room in its place.
8. The newly instated $50 activity fee to join clubs and organizations shocked students.

1. Known for conversing with his students during passing time, Mr. Philip Dalessio catches up with seniors Dave Kang and Nicky Libiszewski.

2. During a long and strenuous advanced placement chemistry class, juniors Kris Kellogg and Chris Burgess take a break from working on their laboratory.

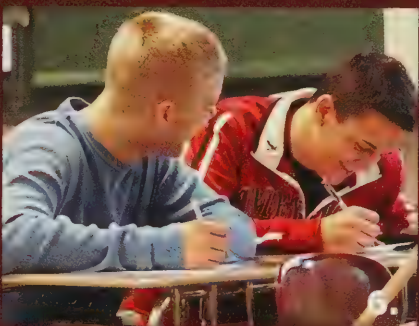

3. It seems to be a daily routine to see Mr. Richard Cotti, Mr. Stephen Marino, and Mrs. Maureen Cotti socializing before the start of the school day.

4. Sophomores Amanda Rua and Angela Figueiredo hit the books together.

5. Juniors Ciana Pinto and Kati Strycharz take a second to laugh out loud during class.

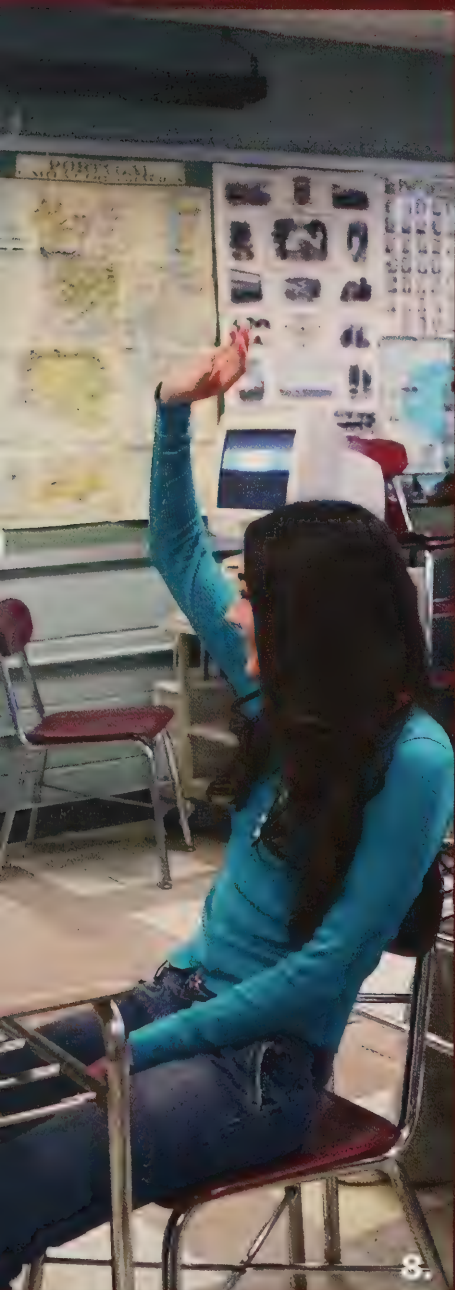

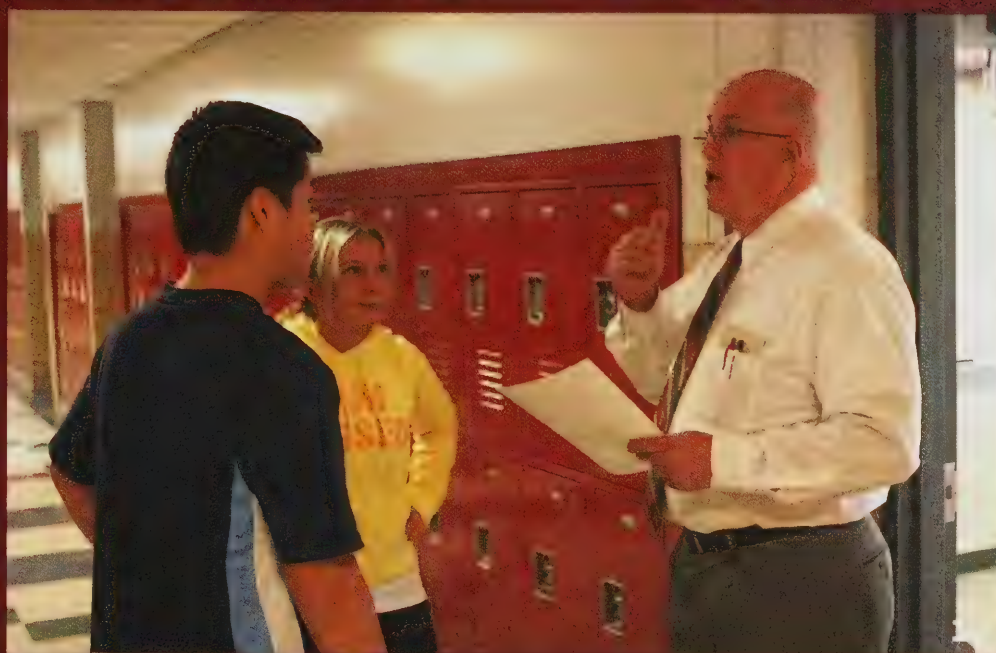

6. Junior Jimmy Merkel shares a joke with Joe Underkofler during paired work time.

7. The decorated senior lounge makes lunchtime a bit more enjoyable and gives students something to look at while waiting in line.

8. Freshman Brianna Fernandes patiently raises her hand to ask foreign language teacher and head coach of the boys varsity soccer team, Mr. Antonio Goncalves a question, but Mr. G seems to be oblivious as he talks with Joey Kapinos about soccer.

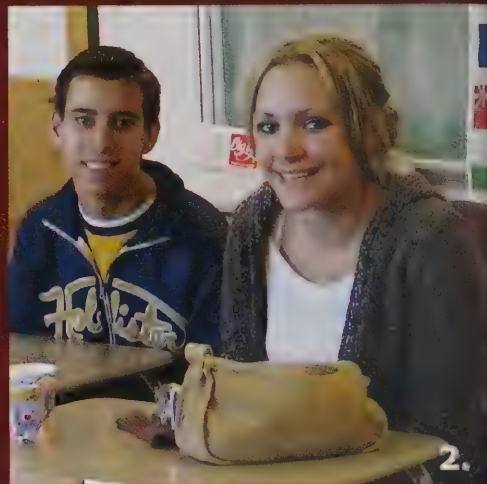

Social Time

*There's More to School
Than Hard Work*

School is not only about the hard work students endure on a daily basis. It has come to be a time when both students and faculty catch up on the prior school events, nights, weekends, and vacations. Before the 7:20 AM bell sounds, it is quite common to observe cliques of students gathered in the halls. However, during classes, students often take the time to work and converse with students with whom they normally do not socialize. Along with socializing with one another, students often take the time to catch up with their teachers, both past and present. The faculty of Ludlow High has made a point to get to know the students with whom they engage in everyday activity. They also get the time to socialize and converse with one another before school, between classes, and after school. Clearly, socialization goes hand in hand with a school day at LHS.

Adiós y Buena Suerte

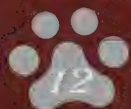

Good-bye and Good Luck, Señor

After ten years as a foreign language teacher along with being the AP coordinator for Ludlow, Señor Paulo Zina was presented with a new career option at the College Board. Over the past decade, students and staff who wandered through the second floor of the high school, knew they were approaching the foreign language wing whenever they overheard Señor loudly teaching Spanish vocabulary words to his students.

Not only was his parting shocking and emotional for him, but also for his students. Señor was the teacher students could go to if they ever needed help or advice about anything. He was there for his students but also for the high school community in general. He was a cultured teacher and will be missed by all of his fellow staff members and former students.

"Leaving is bittersweet because it now puts me in a difficult position having to decide between playing it safe, doing what I've always been doing, or branching out with this new job. I went for the risk. The students have become a part of my family. I get attached. I will miss the camaraderie among the staff, the screaming of vocabulary, the Spanish club, and most of all, the kids that have made the past ten years the most fulfilling of my life," explained Señor Zina.

1. The students in Señor Zina's Spanish 5 class gather around their beloved teacher on his final day at Ludlow High.

2. Bryan Duarte and Lindsay Van Dyke visit classmates and enjoy cake and other goodies on the day of Señor's farewell.

3. Students built a shrine to Señor resembling the traditional Day of The Dead altars made in hispanic countries. This lively display was centered around a picture of Señor, complete with streamers, food, and Señor's favorite items.

4. Audra Dias and Jerad Ostrowski decorate the E hallway outside of Señor's room with bright balloons.

5. Senior Allison Prokop wears a festive mask, reflecting the Spanish culture Señor always included in his lessons, while senior Brendan Zdanis helps decorate the altar.

6. Seniors Katelyn Dolan and Bill Dias say goodbye to Señor at his going away party.

7. Seniors Brendan Zdanis and Mike Condon enjoy their last moments in room E202. All of Señor Zina's classes were handed off to Señorita Karolina Kopczynski.

8. Senior Jake Bruschi holds a piñata up in the air while his fellow classmates prepare to take a swing at it. "More than an excellent teacher, Señor was a true friend to his students. It was easy to feel comfortable in his classroom," commented Jake.

1. Mrs. Susan Stachelek instructs her first period AP calculus class. Her students are quite fond of her unique teaching style and her ability to understand an individual's needs.

2. Mr. Stephen Marino grabs a hold of his duties as dean of students in full force while enforcing all of Ludlow High's rules and regulations.

3. Along with mentoring students, Mr. Richard Cotti points students in the right direction for their future endeavors.

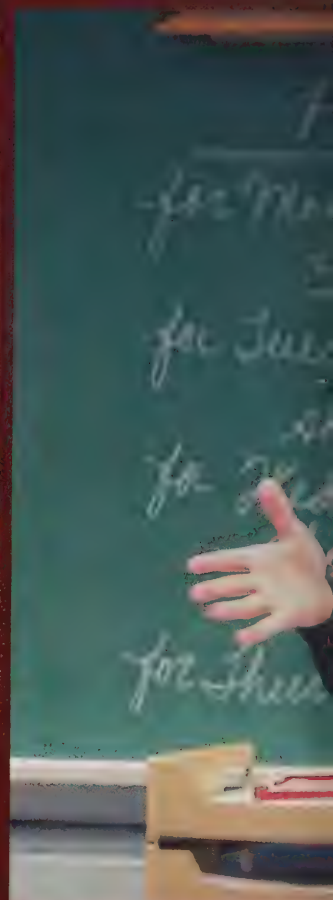

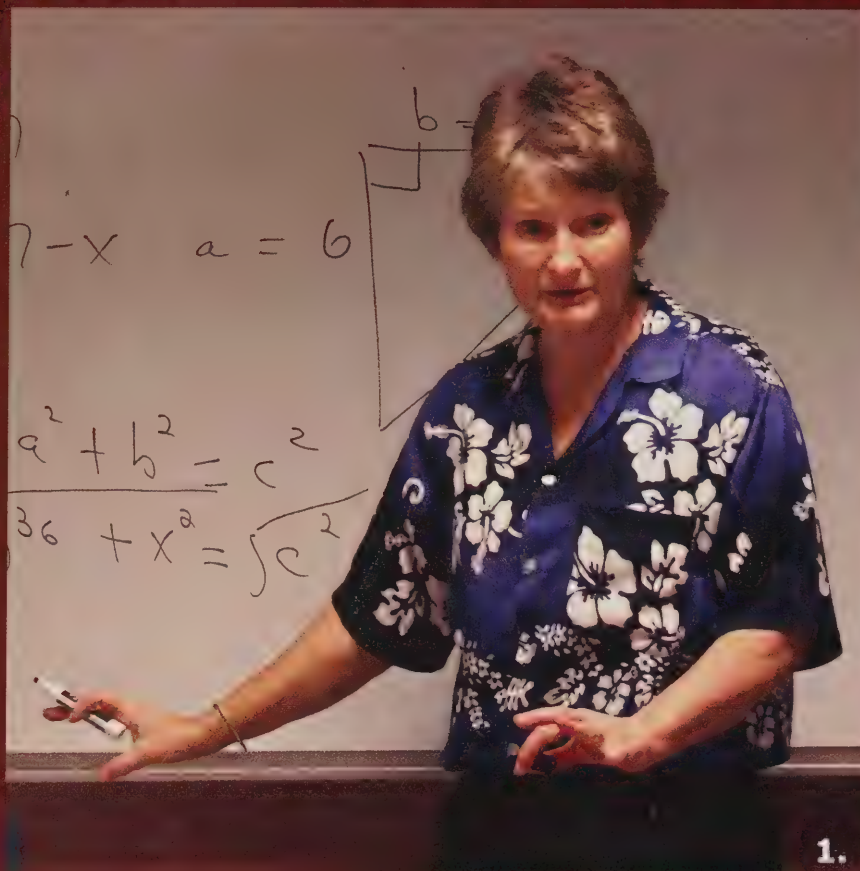

4. Mrs. Suzanne Kelley lectures her students about the principles of English literature and writing styles. Former student Amanda Grondin says, "Mrs. Kelley's class was always hard work, but she taught me how to set my mind on something and follow through with it."

5. Mrs. Susan Stachelek in 1975

Retirees

Venturing Out to New Horizons

After a combined 137 years in the education field, four respected and well-known individuals will be stepping out of their teacher identities and entering a new life of freedom called retirement at the end of this year. Mr. Richard Cotti, a guidance counselor and former English teacher, will focus on a variety of outdoor activities including fishing and hunting when he exits Ludlow High School after 31 years. English chairperson and for two years acting assistant principal, Mrs. Suzanne Kelley, will retire after 36 committed years, enjoy vacationing, and spending time with her granddaughter. The era of fear of Mr. Stephen Marino patrolling the halls in search of rebel students will be coming to an end after 35 years as an English teacher and most recently, dean of students. Math chairperson, Mrs. Susan Stachelek, will also retire after 35 years, but she still plans to tutor math. New teachers will replace these four retiring teachers, but they will always have a special place in our hallways.

People

High school is a time of meeting new people, engaging in new endeavors and defining who we are. When we enter as freshmen, we think we know everything, but it doesn't take us long to realize that we have a lot to learn. The people at Ludlow High help us through four years – which seem long at the time – to mature and grow into the graduates that we will become. As seniors we no longer look at the world in such a narrow way. All of the people we meet along our journey vary in a myriad of ways, which help us to discern whom we want to emulate and whom we want to avoid. The input from these people makes us the people we are today.

Class Poem:
A Beginning's End

By: Amanda Holley

*Anticipating
As time is nearing,
Up ahead
We see the clearing.
We came in together,
But leave apart,
Carried always by the beat of our hearts.*

*And everything we want is out there waiting,
So step on through — no hesitating
Take a leap,
And hope to fly.
This is just "so long;"
It's not "good-bye."*

*It's just that now,
We have a world to greet,
And places to go
And people to meet.
But wherever you go,
Go there knowing,*

*Where you've been is just as important as where you're going.
So follow your head,
But hear your heart,
And always remember your journey's start.
The wisdom you seek,
Lies within.
And remember fondly
Those with whom you came in.*

Athletics

Freshman Boys' and Girls' Soccer

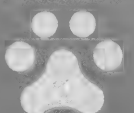

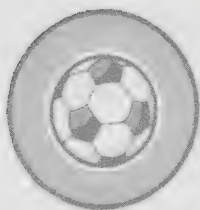

While venturing out on the walk to remember, hundreds of students pay the $105 fee to participate in a sport. Unfortunately, due to an exaggerated budget cut, all freshman sports were cut. The booster clubs of four freshman sports - boys' soccer, girls' soccer, football, and baseball - raised enough money to bring the freshman teams back. Ludlow High School athletics also had the best support system for all their teams with Studlow, a rambunctious group of Ludlow students and fans, making it to every sporting event possible. Quite obviously, with support from students, parents, faculty, and coaches, the 2005-2006 athletic seasons were bound to be remembered.

1. Senior captain Amanda Vigneault retrieves the ball and brings it up the field towards her teammates.

2. Senior captain Christina Amaral steps in front of her opponent to snatch the ball away in an attempt to regain possession for the Lady Lions.

7. Senior captain Justine Pereira is gets ready for a penalty kick in hopes for a goal. "These girls have been like family for four months. They have made my senior year something special and worth remembering. Title or no title, I'll never forget you girls," says Justine.

6. "This season our team became a family, a family I will never forget. We may have not won a Western Mass. trophy, but we gained so much more: lessons, friendships, and memories that will last a lifetime," says senior captain and goalie, Katelyn Dolan, who sends the ball up the field.

Girls' Soccer

This year the girls' soccer team had quite a season under senior captains Christina Amaral, Katelyn Dolan, Justine Pereira, and Amanda Vigneault, with a record of 8 wins, 5 losses, and 5 ties during the regular season. After playoffs the team's record went to 10 wins, 6 losses and 5 ties. During the playoffs they had a preliminary game against Chicopee High School beating them at 4-1. This year the girls made it to the Western Mass. semifinals, which was a great accomplishment. In the quarterfinals the team had a game against Northampton, which Ludlow won 4-0. One of Ludlow's star players, Kayley Miller, made three goals and an assist during the game. Finally, during the semifinals, the Lady Lions lost to Minnechaug in a close game, which ended with a score of 1-0. For All Western Mass., freshman Kayley Miller and sophomore Catherine Pangiarella made first team and senior Christina Amaral and junior Suzanne Silva made second team. Miller was the second leading scorer with 18 goals and 6 assists.

3. Senior Alyssa Severyn is getting the ball back into play so that her team will have possession.

4. Teamwork is the key word for this bundle of sticks. Coach Kate Johnson did this drill to show the girls that an individual or one stick can break easily, but as a whole bundle they can't break.

5. Underclassmen Lauren Francisco, Suzanne Silva, and Kayley Miller all made a great defensive play to get the ball back while surrounded by the other team.

Boys' Soccer

Led by five devoted individuals, senior captains Ahmed Abdullah, Jake Bruschi, Jared Falconer, Marco Gomes, and Justin Martins, the boys' varsity soccer team made an unforgettable run at the Western Mass title. After losing only one game during the regular season (to Amherst) the boys captured the Smith League Division I title. Also, senior Justin Martins was recognized as the Smith Division leading scorer. During the playoff season, Ludlow defeated Westfield in the quarter finals and then Holyoke in the semifinals. Next up, the boys looked to take on Minnechaug, a fierce competitor and rival. Unfortunately, the end of the soccer season came when Minnechaug outscored Ludlow 3-1 to claim its title as the Western Mass. champions. Senior Marco Gomes remembers the season as being both intense and fun as the team made a run at the championship. He says, "It was a disappointment to lose to Chaug for the title, but overall we played well throughout the season."

1. Senior captain Jake Bruschi prepares to drop kick the ball in response to a spectacular save. "The team has worked hard together and remained confident. I'm proud to play with these guys," said Jake.

2. Senior Brandon Vigneault saves the ball from going out of bounds and keeps it in play.

3. Senior captains Justin Martins, Marco Gomes, Ahmed Abdullah, and Jared Falconer watch alongside their opponents and referees as the coin is tossed to determine who will have possession of the ball first. Senior captain Jared Falconer states, "We had a good season overall, but it was very disappointing to lose in the Western Mass. finals."

3. Senior captain Nicole Potter is running a good time in hopes that she will win first place and help the team with a win. "This team has come so far since my freshman year. Back then there were about seven girls on the team and not a good record. We have grown so large over these past seasons and claimed our first league title! Everyone has come such a long way. I expect great things from this team in the future, and I will truly miss being a part of this family. It has been an experience that I will never forget," said Nicole.

Girls' Cross Country

The 2005 girls' cross country team had an amazing season. The ladies had a winning record of 8-1 led by senior captain Nicole Potter and freshman Ashley Ferreira. They were able to defeat all of their opponents except for Longmeadow, a tough contender in their first meet. The girls finished their season against West Springfield winning with a score of 23-38 securing Ludlow girls' cross country's first ever league championship. The team placed eighth out of 22 teams at PVIAC and later placed fifth out of the 19 teams at the Western Mass championships. Ashley Ferreira later went on to the state championships at Franklin Park in Boston and placed 80th out of 114 girls with an exceptional time of 21:06. The team also had great performances throughout the season from seniors Melissa Dion and Brittney Kawa.

1. Two underclassmen, Zack Pietras, and Justin Ferreira, make their way towards the finish line.

2. Senior Nick Langone receives gratitude from his coach, Mrs. Becca Gauvin, during senior night at Ludlow High. Nick later states, "You have to burn it to earn it."

3. The whole team gets together at the beginning of a meet to cheer on each other.

Boys' Cross Country

The 2005 boys' cross country team had an amazing season. It started when captains David Johnson and Paul Momnie led their team to victory at the Longmeadow/Holyoke meet. They defeated both teams with a score of 16-44 against Longmeadow and 15-50 against Holyoke.

The harriers not only had a great start, but they also had a great finish. They went undefeated with a record of 9-0. The team then went on to PVIAC and placed second. It placed third in the Western Mass. championships with 101 points. On November 19 at Franklin Park in Boston, Ludlow placed 11th overall and Kevin Johnson placed first on the team and 49th overall. On top of a great season, the team also received the MIAA Sportsmanship Award and became the league champions for the first time in Ludlow history.

4. Senior Matt Geanacopoulos awaits his acknowledgement for being on the team, while he says his good-byes to all of his teammates.

5. This cross country symbol is worn by the members of the team around school and at the races on their hoodies and jackets.

6. Senior Dan Stevens is pacing himself during his race through the course. "Wow, since my sophomore year, this team has come so far. People don't realize how hard this sport is. The future of the team looks great. This camaraderie is the best of any team, and I am really gonna miss the great times," says Dan.

7. Senior Christopher Venne runs towards the finish line to end his race. "This sport is the only place where grown men can wear girls' clothes and look just as attractive...how do you say no to that?" said Chris.

1. The lion mascot, senior Clarence Kauila, helps the cheerleaders blow up noise sticks during senior night. The cheerleaders pumped up the crowd during home games by throwing out T-shirts, miniature footballs, and noise makers to dedicated fans.

2. With curls in their hair, makeup on their faces, and uniforms on, junior Catarina Martins alongside seniors Monique Goodrow and Leigh-Ann Malke get hyped up before hitting the mat to perform their routine at a local competition.

8. Junior captain Tanya Lang flies high into the sky as she hits a toe touch basket toss. Tanya began flying as a freshman, but then switched to basing. She perfected her basket toss this year to perform at football games, basketball games, and the fall pep rally.

7. Senior Leigh-Ann Malke and juniors Tanya Lang, Melissa Miele, and Jessica Bashaw stand ready to start their routine with an opening stunt.

6. The varisty cheerleading squad sticks its ending pyramid at competition. The squad ends every routine with a pyramid showcasing different levels and talents that the squad perfected over the course of the year.

Cheerleading

"L-E-T-S G-O! C'mon, Lions, Let's Go!" During early August, the cheerleading squads, both varisty and junior varsity, traveled to the Univeristy of Massachusetts in Amherst to participate in a Universal Cheerleading Association four day camp. As soon as the squads came back into Ludlow, they began learning new cheers and dances to show off at home football games. Unfortunately though, in the midst of all this, the varisty cheerleading coach walked out and the girls were left abandoned, not knowing if they would be able to cheer for the '05-'06 school year. After missing the first football game of the season, the girls were able to cheer under the guidance of former coach Mr. Craig Hanson who agreed to step in until the position was filled. All through football season the girls cheered their hearts out, and pumped up the crowd with noise sticks, miniature footballs, and T-shirts. During the basketball season, the girls prepared for competition under the new coaching of Mrs. Laura Tereso, a mother of one of the freshman cheerleaders. Although the girls did not make it to the regional competition, they gave everything they had at the local competitions they attended.

3. Senior captain Leigh-Ann Malke and junior Nicole Lopes bear the cold weather and snow at this year's Thanksgiving Day football game to cheer the varsity football to victory over Palmer.

4. The varisty cheerleaders dance with other squads on the competition mat at the end of one competition while the judges tally up the scores.

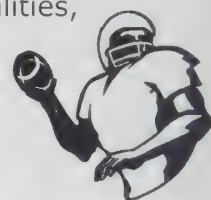

5. While taking a break from cheering on the sidelines, the junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders crowd together to show off their smiles to the fans at an away game at Szot Park in Chicopee.

Football

The season opened with a big win at Commerce on September 9 under the guidance of coach Carl Ericksberg and senior captains Nick Assarian, Mike Barros, Nick Chaplin, and Matt Dudley. Midway through the season the team realized that in order to have a winning season it would have to come together and play like a real team. With the loss of the senior line and quarterback from last season, many underclassmen knew they needed to step up to help out the returning varsity players. The season concluded with a snowy shut out against Palmer in which Nick Assarian was given the humanitarian award for his academic success, leadership qualities, and sportsmanship.

1. The members of the football team all salute their helmets to the flag during the National Anthem.

2. Coach Carl Ericksberg gives Junior Seth Barker a pep talk during one of his substitutions.

Girls' Volleyball

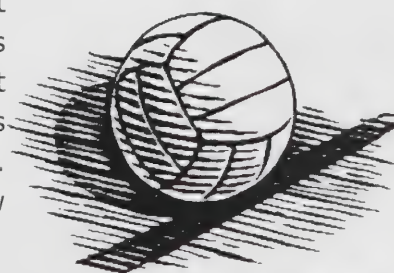

The varsity girls' volleyball team finished the season with a 4-14 record. Although the season was rough, the girls still enjoyed playing together for one more season. They started with an advantage because there were no seniors from their previous season that left the team, compared to other schools. Unfortunately, though, they faced a difficult challenge. They had to get used to the rules, regulations, and personality of their new coach, Mr. Pat Anecchiarico. Two strong leaders were chosen as captains, seniors Caryn Lecca and Christine Howard, to lead the team throughout the season. Although the season did not go as well as the girls would have liked, they still enjoyed themselves and bonded together. Despite the rocky season, the girls learned a lot from their new coach and gained an experience that they will remember forever.

It was a big turnaround for the Ludlow High School golf team this past season because it has been four years since its last trip to the Western Massachusetts championship, a tournament for the most elite teams of the area. Under the coaching of Coach Kurt Anderson, senior captains Matthew Smith and Michael Ryan, the team had a winning season of 10-8. The team practiced hard at the Westover Golf Course and played well at the championship, placing seventh out of fourteen teams.

7. Senior Captain Matt Smith states, "We had a great season, and made it to Western Mass. for the first time since 1999. With a lot of help from underclassmen, this made our season a successful one."

4. Freshman Collin Dansereau putts his ball towards the direction of the hole.

5. Senior Captain Mike Ryan says, "I think that this season went very well. Our team worked well together and got along. The future team has a good chance to succeed next year."

6. Junior Brett Williamson watches as his ball falls into the hole to help his team to success.

7. Freshman Kayley Miller jumps up to shoot the ball into the basket to score for her team.

Girls' Basketball

The Ladies' basketball season began with a roar!! With the motto: "We may not have it all together, but, together we have it all," the Ladies were off to what they believed would be an awesome season! Determined to put their best talent first, opening night on the court was a winner followed by eight more: fourteen wins and two losses overall. Each team member contributed the best of her time and talent to help the others. Senior Night was a highlight with tears & laughter! What a successful season this was. Coach Timothy Brillo helped keep up his team's spirits to be 2006 League Champs!

Boys' Basketball

After having a successful 2004-2005 season, the boys' varsity basketball team was forced to move up a division, which turned out to be quite a challenge. Each game forced the boys to work together and give 110% dedication. The speed and vertical jump of senior guard Clarence Kauila alongside the height and talent of senior forward Patrick Roberts added depth and character to the team. Sophomores Kyle Borowiec (forward) and Adam Laterruer (guard) showed off the promising, young, athletic ability Ludlow will bring into the season in upcoming years. Unfortunately, due to the unbeatable competition, the boys ended the season with a losing record, 4-16. This triumph did not allow the boys to make the playoffs this year nor did it show the competitive drive the boys went out with each and every game. They wanted to win every time they stepped onto the court to play.

1. Sophomores Adam Laterreur and Kyle Borowiec block a shot from the other team to get the ball back for Ludlow.

2. Senior Matt Dias is ready to block the pass to the other team.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling season was tough at times with close, exciting dual meets against Agawam and Minnechaug. Senior Curtis Fish came back to the team after a few years and brought with him the strength to help his team on the mat when it needed the points the most. This team had three Western Mass. champs: sophomore Jay Chenier, sophomore Ronnie Tetreault, and the legendary senior John Archambeau. Archambeau has two state titles and holds the record for the most matches ever won by a single individual. "John is a great leader and has a great positive attitude," said Coach Thomas Bly. Tetreault won Western Mass. in his weight class, came in second at the state competition, and third at New Englands. Chenier also won Western Mass. after being placed low on the standings.

4. Junior Marc Suarez took third place at the state competition for his team. He was just one of the many key members the wrestling team had on board for the season.

5. Sophomore Ronnie Tetreault thinks about what his next move will be on his opponent.

"Ludlow High's hockey season was a little rough, but we definitely pulled through," commented sophomore player Ryan Collette. Coach Paul Rivest, with the help of senior captain Troy Ribeiro and senior assistant captains Derek Duchesne, Chris Minie, and Matt Smith, directed the team on the ice. Ribeiro, who was pronounced the team's MVP, became known as the Michael Kane (a 2005 Ludlow High graduate who scored 1000 points in basketball) of hockey when he tallied 101 points over his four-year high school hockey career. During the last game of the season, Ribeiro scored five goals along with assisting one. This pushed him to his 101 point total.

Swimming

This year Ludlow High School received a great addition to its school sports. For the first time, LHS formed its very own swim team; the Ludlow Community Center granted the high school permission to use its pool to practice and compete in. Under the direction of Coach Chrissy James, an LHS graduate, the team proved to be a phenomenal success. With a very victorious first season, under this co-ed team's junior captains Brian Fuller and Nina Perez, team members made it to Western Mass. and then on to states. According to the team, it was a huge accomplishment to attend these competitions in a team's first year. Three girl relays, two boy relays, and one individual swimmer, freshman Breonna Harrington, were sent to states, where all of the swimmers did very well, which was a fantastic feat. The swim team will be a permanent addition here at Ludlow High.

Boys' Volleyball

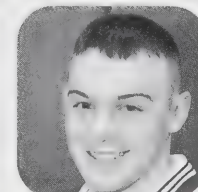

The boys' varsity volleyball team returned from a great season in 2005 to start fresh in 2006. The boys worked hard in practice and gave everything they had during all of their games. Although the team seemed to dominate the season under the experienced coaching of Mr. Fred Glanville, it struggled against Minnechaug and Agawam in the combined five games in which Ludlow faced its rivals. With the challenge, Ludlow took fourth place in its division with a 15-4 record. Unfortunately, the team did not make it to the finals because it lost 3-1 to West Springfield in the quarter finals held at Ludlow High. Girls' Track and Field

Girls' track and field was successful once again, winning its league for the second time since 2004. Ludlow's 7-0 record came with many of the girls qualifying for PVIAC as well as Western Mass. The team as a whole placed second at Western Mass. with 84 points, only three points away from first place; five individuals went on to states as did a four-by-four relay team. The success of the team was driven by hard work and good attitudes. Their leaders were Amanda Vigneault, Allie Prokop, Samm Bousquet, Nicole Potter and Brittney Kawa. Ludlow's Lady Lions have come a long way over the past few years and are now considered one of the best teams in Western Mass. The girls gave it their all and had a wonderful season together.

Softball

The girls' softball team started the season with a chance for a new beginning. Coach Dina Currier stepped up to the plate and helped these girls out with a few new tricks to help them become better players. The most memorable moment was during the last game against South Hadley. Even though the girls lost in the ninth inning 5-4, they brought the number one placed team into overtime. There was not one head down on the field during that game because they were paying close attention; throwing was perfect; senior Toni Cordello hit a triple; and freshman Ashley Provost pitched an amazing game allowing few hits.

4. Sophomore Heather Picard takes a swing at the ball while up to bat during a home game in the back of the high school.

5. Freshman Ashleigh Ally plants her feet on the ground, leans out, catches the ball in her glove, and goes to protect it with her opposite hand while catching a fly ball.

6. Sophomore Erin Ziencina reaches out while covering a base to catch the ball thrown across the diamond in hopes of getting a player out.

7. Freshman junior varsity catcher Sarah Tarullo throws off her catcher's mask and goes after a loose ball as she tries to get it back to pitcher.

1. Freshman Ryan LaFromboise, the starting varsity catcher, retrieves the ball from his glove to throw back at the pitcher during a warm up session prior to the start of a game.

2. Senior Nick Chaplin stares up into the sky ready to catch a fly ball in the outfield.

3. Senior pitcher Dave Catarino converses with Coach Fanning regarding what to do for the next play.

4. Senior pitcher Matt Harrington winds up to pitch what he hopes to be a strike at a baseman. "It was great playing with these guys," said Matt.

7. Senior Brandon Vigneault shows relaxation and excitement after winning a game.

Baseball

"Check your temperature because you have baseball fever!" Junior Brett Provost's voice echoed through the halls, and he was right! This season's big moment was the playoff game against Longmeadow, which Ludlow won 9-6. That hasn't occurred in over 23 years. By winning this game, the team made it to Western Mass. Under the leadership of senior captains Nick Chaplin and Matt Harrington as Coach Martin Fanning commented, "The year was a great success." Coach Fanning and his team have high hopes for next year since quite a few leading players will be returning to the field such as freshman Steve Bates, the team's leading pitcher, and sophomore Matt Lavoie and junior Nate Blake, who are the leading batters. Blake is also the team's most valuable player. It seems next year will be a big hit once again!

Events

On students' walk to remember, they engage in event after event in their high school career. Every high school event that takes place - a dance, a banquet, a field trip, a play, a graduation - leaves a special memory in a student's heart. These various events, which people do not get to participate in every day, are cherished and can never be replaced. The events bring classes together to form a bond and unity, which inevitably will help shape the person a student becomes. Clearly, the events are all a part of the journey that high school holds for its students. The laughs, the dances, and all the events along the way continue the walk to remember.

November 18th Homecoming

Everlasting Love: Famous Couples Throughout History

Marilyn Monroe and Joe Dimaggio, Romeo and Juliet, Marge and Homer Simpson, and Barbie and Ken, were spotted at this year's homecoming. Cutouts of these famous couples decorated every corner of the cafeteria to bring about a romantic essence to the evening. Entitled Everlasting Love: Famous Couples Throughout History, love drifted through the air. Sponsored by "The Cub," the dance took place from 7:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Red, peach, and pearl balloons were draped from the rafters, while heart balloons floated around the perimeter of the room. Lighted arches gleamed from the center of the cafeteria. Students and alumni danced to club music mixed with romantic ballads provided by DJ Sergio André. Refreshments such as brownies, carrots, fruit salad, and punch were enjoyed by all. The most anticipated moment of the evening came as seniors Christopher Venne and Julia Tetreault were crowned as homecoming king and queen.

1. Freshman Brittanie McGregor, sophomore Susan Cotti, junior Ashley Quiterio, senior Julia Tetreault, senior Christopher Venne, junior Mike Goodreau, and sophomore Ronald Tetreault made up this year's homecoming court.

2. Sophomores Trisha Machado and Stephanie Gomes take on a new identity as Romeo and Juliet by posing in just one of the famous featured couples displayed in the cafeteria.

3. Seniors Allison LaFlamme and John Archambeau take a chance to dance with one another during a slow song.

4. A group of lively students form various lines to join in a choreographed line dance of the "Electric Slide."

5. Seniors Meghan Diotalevi, Amanda Grondin, and Karolina Kaflinska show off their straight hair styles, which seemed to be the popular trend at this year's homecoming.

6. Homecoming queen and king, seniors Julia Tetreault and Christopher Venne enjoy a dance with one another immediately after being crowned king and queen at the end of the evening.

March 24th Banquet

A Black and White Affair: The Roaring '20s

After much anticipation, the long overdue freshman / sophomore banquet went off without a hitch. On Friday, March 24, at the Gremio Lusitano Portuguese Club, students from all grades joined together to capture a memorable night. Unfortunately for the freshmen and sophomores, their banquet was postponed due to an unexpected snow day. Earlier in the year, the juniors and seniors attempted to plan a banquet, but there didn't seem to be much interest in the event. As a result, the junior and senior banquet, "New Year's Bash," was cancelled; however, the juniors and seniors were invited to a party at the freshman / sophomore banquet entitled "A Black and White Affair." The cascade of black and white decorations and elegant attire transported people back in time to the days of the roaring '20s. Black and white top hats and bubbles were favors of the night. The event was complete with delicious Italian food, catered by Pinocchio's on the Go. Complete with black top hats, students from all grades enjoyed the festivities as the night progressed.

1. Sophomore Scott Almeida enthusiastically takes a seat at a table and shows off the gangster hats that were worn as part of the night's theme "A Black and White Affair."

2. Freshmen Thomas Chisholm, Nathan Lasky, and Marco Faria get pumped up to the music of the roaring '20s.

3. Senior Matthew Jordan, sophomore Diogo Blanco, senior Shawn Gomes, and freshmen Fernando Blanco, Amanda Faria, and Amber Vigneault gather around a decorated table, waiting for the food to arrive.

4. Freshmen Jaime McAtee, Courtney Kelley, Angelina Cavallini, and Jessica Maloni crowd together to capture a group shot on the dance floor in between songs.

5. The gourmet Italian food was catered by Pinocchio's on the Go for all to enjoy.

6. Sophomores Alyssa Creamer, Nicole Do Carmo, and Austin Lapierre mingle with one another before dancing the night away to music provided by DJ Dundi.

Jr. & Sr. Prom

When the Lights Go Down in the City

In the past, the simple phrase "when the lights go down in the city," would remind us of the famous song by Journey, but from now on it will bring memories of the 2006 Junior & Senior Prom. As the tradition goes, the junior class planned prom, which was held at the Grand Marriott in Springfield. Guests stepped out of their limos, party buses, or cars in stunning dresses and tuxedos before entering through the revolving doors into the beautiful lobby of the hotel. Via the elevators, guests were taken to the sixth floor where the magic of prom truly began. Guests checked in to find out which table, named after a famous city in the world, they would be sitting at before opting to take pictures in front of the city-styled backdrop. Inside the picturesque ballroom, colors of ivory, gold, and navy were accompanied by dimmed lighting from chandeliers. Elegant picture boxes that were given as a keepsake added a personal touch. After hours of dancing, seniors Christopher Venne and Ashley Petrolati were crowned prom king and queen and juniors Matthew Lopata and Brianna Arnold were crowned prom prince and princess. When the night came to a close, guests were sad to pull away, for this gala event impressed anyone who attended.

1. Seniors Liz Martins and Jake Bruschi get close to one another as official yearbook photographer Walt Steinmetz of Steinmetz Photography captures a memorable night for the couple.

2. Female prom guests often wear corsages like the one pictured here to match their elegant dresses. Corsages usually have one to two flowers accompanied by a ribbon to match the girl's dress.

3. Seniors Katelyn Dolan and David Kang joke around before sitting down to enjoy the delicious food served at prom.

4. Senior Monica Holland gets twirled around by her date as the two dance the night away at her final high school prom.

5. The looks on the faces of seniors Amanda Vigneault, Casey Gomes, and Meghan Diotalevi prove that prom was an overall success.

6. The prom king and queen, seniors Chris Venne and Ashley Petrolati, sit with their court, which included seniors Brittney Kawa, Ari Hutchins, Liz Hayes, Paul Momnie, Nick Gomes, Michael Condon, Claudia Crespo, and Matt Smith.

March 24th Talent Show

Singing, Dancing, and Rocking...

The Ludlow High School Spanish club held its annual fundraiser, "El Talent Show" with the help of Señorita Karolina Kopczynski. The show was a showcase of talents with a violinist, guitar soloists, dancing groups, a juggler, and bands. The evening opened with guitarist sophomore Justin Martins performing the National Anthem followed by the remainder of his band, Tommy Hayes Memorial Golf Tournament, joining him to perform a song by Led Zeppelin. As the night progressed, so did the musical acts including two separate duets performed by senior Joseph Metcalfe and junior Brianna Arnold and senior Matthew Harrington and senior Elizabeth Hayes. Junior Amanda Grelha showed off her amazing voice when she performed a solo number from the Broadway musical "Wicked." Junior Eric Drewniak brought some exceptional talent to the stage with his incredible juggling ability. The talent show came to a conclusion with the band of the night, Innocent Exile. "El Talent Show" is not a competition; it's just a way for Ludlow High students to show off their many talents to the rest of the student body. Therefore, all the performers were winners.

1. Senior Joseph Metcalfe takes a seat to start the night off right by introducing upcoming acts in the first half of "El Talent Show." Not only did Metcalfe take on the role as MC, but he also participated in the show by singing a duet with junior Brianna Arnold.

2. The Tommy Hayes Memorial Golf Tournament Band performs a song by Led Zeppelin to awe the audience.

3. Freshman Nicole Crevier was just one of the many talented singers who performed during the night.

4. Senior Andew Geanacopoulos displays his guitar abilities during a solo number.

5. Junior Ben Pellegrini, a lead singer, prefers to sing while sitting down.

6. Juniors Jillian Faustinho, Kaitlyn Vitorino, and Alyssa Parker wait backstage in the cafeteria by practicing their dance number a few times before going on stage.

January 13th & 14th Musical Theater

Rodgers & Hammerstein's "South Pacific"

In mid-January, the musical theater class performed its first production of the year, Rodger & Hammerstein's "South Pacific." This production was adapted from the Pulitzer Prize winning novel "Tales of the South Pacific" by James A. Michener. Sophomore Laura St. Martin and senior Matthew Harrington took on the lead roles as two lonely souls caught up in a romance during World War II. Highlights of the play included a belly dance by sophomore David Pollard, a passionate kiss between senior Joseph Metcalfe and junior Amanda Grelha, and Matthew Harrington serenading the audience with the song "Some Enchanted Evening." The music, under the direction of musical theater teacher Mrs. Mary-Beth Will, was by far one of the strongest points of the entire production. Sophomore Susan Cotti can be credited with the fine choreography.

1. Juniors Benjamin Lasky and Jeffery Richards converse with wounded soldier Stewpot, played by junior Michael Goodreau, about upcoming events regarding World War II.

2. Juniors Amanda Grehla and Sarah Potter alongside sophomore Susan Cotti portray ensigns, who are women who helped out with the war effort.

3. Sophomore Katie Currier and senior Meghan Lavoie partner up to perform a choreographed dance by sophomore Susan Cotti.

4. Senior Joseph Metcalfe and junior Amanda Grelha move close to one another before sharing a passionate kiss.

5. Senior Ashley Papuzynski and junior Zac Zina dispute about a shrunken head which Bloody Mary got from Bali Ha'I.

6. Senior Matthew Harrington and sophomore Laura St. Martin were two lead roles in "South Pacific." Harrington as Emile de Beque sings to St. Martin as Nellie Forbush as he declares his love to her.

April 7th & 8th Musical Theater "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat"

During the spring, the musical theater class performed its second production of the year: "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." The play, a contemporary opera, was extremely ambitious. The students accompanied by a live band, sang throughout the entire show, while a select group of young dancers danced along with the music. Senior Joseph Metcalfe gave an outstanding performance as the lead. Also, senior Matthew Harrington gave an exceptional performance as the pharaoh. Senior Angela Evans performed opposite Harrington as the pharaoh's wife. Strong performances came from the five narrators of the play including junior Brianna Arnold, sophomore Susan Cotti, senior Elizabeth Hayes, senior Meghan Lavoie, and senior Julia Sadowsky. The musical talents of these young stars shined through with the help and dedication given to them from musical theater teacher as well as director of the show Mrs. Mary-Beth Will.

1. Senior Joseph Metcalfe takes on the role as Joseph as he shows his amazing technicolor dreamcoat to the audience during the opening number.

2. Joseph's brothers played by senior Clarence Kauila, junior Zac Zina, sophomore Nevin Xavier, junior Mike Goodreau, and senior Gilberto Borges plan to sell Joseph to the Ishmalites (sophomore Jill McInerny and senior Elaina Esoo).

3. Senior narrator Julia Sadowsky created a beautiful opening to the show with the singing of the prologue. Junior Brianna Arnold, sophomore Susan Cotti, and senior Megan Lavoie sit reading their Bibles.

4. Sophomores Laura St. Martin and Jerica McCarthy cater to Potiphar, played by junior Mike Goodreau.

5. Ishmalites sophomore Jill McInerny and senior Michelle Tighe arrive to buy Joseph from his brothers during a critical part in the play.

6. Reading her Bible to the audience, senior narrator Elizabeth Hayes continues Joseph's story of triumph.

Drama Club

"The Importance of Being Earnest"

In its second year at LHS, the drama club held its first production of the year, Oscar Wilde's classic satire "The Importance of Being Earnest," on February 2nd and 3rd. Starring junior Kayla Manzi and sophomore Colin Vigneault as Algernon Moncrieff and John Worthing (also known as Jack) in the lead roles, the play centers around a revolving romance in which Algernon and John fall head over heels in love with two young ladies who have their hearts set on Earnest. Directed by drama club president, senior Samantha Burns, the play drew a lot of laughter from the audience and was an overall success for the returning club.

February 2nd & 3rd

1. Suitor Jack Worthing (sophomore Colin Vigneault) is pushed away by Gwendoline Fairfax (freshman Laura Burgess).
2. Lady Bracknell (senior Marita Sarad) thinks up another way to control her daughter.
3. Cast: Mrs. Tara Clark, Elaina Essoo, Meghan Lavoie, Marita Sarad, Laura Burgess, Colin Vigneault, Kayla Manzi, Angie Cavallini, Veronika LaRocque, Bryan Duarte, and Hannah Wood. Crew: Jason Corbeille, Mia Santos, Andrew Goodreau, Jen Bramucci, Sam Burns, Cat Lavallee, Melissa Chelte, and Valerie Crowther.
4. Cecily Cardew (freshman Angie Cavallini) talks with Algernon Moncrieff (junior Kayla Manzi).

Productions

"Murder by the Book"

In the spring, April 28th and 29th, the drama club performed "Murder by the Book," written by Craig Sodaro, to a slightly smaller audience than the winter show. Featuring a slew of LHS actors, the unknown play was a "clue" styled story of a secret society of literature lovers. The play opens in the parlor of the Charles Dickens' house, where a meeting is taking place to elect the best mystery book of the year. As the play progresses, each well-known author is mysteriously murdered creating suspense. The elegant and colorful costumes were rented from The Costume Closet in Springfield.

April 28th & 29th

1. Charlotte Bronte (senior Ashley Heyes) admires egotistical Mark Twain (sophomore Colin Vigneault).
2. Back: Cat Lavallee, Jazmin Lefebvre, Elaina Esoo, Molly O'Brien, Josh Reno, Kayla Manzi, Andrew Goodreau, Ashley Heyes, Jason Corbeille, Bryan Duarte, and Kim Milbier. Front: Laura Burgess, Colin Vigneault, Veronika LaRocque, Scott Almeida, Marita Sarad, Angie Cavallini, and Sam Burns.
3. Louisa Mae Alcott (freshman Angie Cavallini) looks over the work of fellow author Mary Shelley (junior Kayla Manzi).
4. The unique members of the Raven Society debate the issue of the mysterious letter depicting their deaths.

Volleyball

Marathon

Student Council Fundraiser

On March 10th students from all grades walked into the high school gymnasium knowing they would be locked in until 7:00 the following morning. This annual event, sponsored by student council, raises money for scholarships that are given to seniors at the end of the school year. Throughout the night each team, ranging from eight to twelve players, played about one nine-minute game per hour. In between games students occupied themselves with video games, computer games, board games, and cards. Refreshments were available for participants throughout the night. There were prizes given to the teams with the best T-shirts and to "Vertical Enjoyment" who won the championship of the 2006 volleyball marathon. Junior Michael Adam, a member of "Thug Life," recalls, "The night was both exciting and intense because this was my second year making the finals, but not quite being the champion."

1. Seniors Matt Jordan, Julia Sadowsky, and Elizabeth Martins play a game of Twister in the back gym to bide some time until their next volleyball game.

2. Juniors Nick Constanza, Jayme Kapinos, Sean Auclair, and Kyle O'Connor play some video games while waiting for their next game to come around.

3. Freshmen Ashley Provost and Brianna Fernandes laugh and chat with friends in the back gym, which many other people did as well while waiting for their next time to go and play a game of volleyball.

4. The championship game between "Thug Life" and "Vertical Enjoyment" was played at 6:30 a.m. After an intense game, "Vertical Enjoyment" defeated "Thug Life" for the title.

5. Seniors Joe Martins and Josh Undersfer listen and sing along as junior Justin Martins plays the guitar.

6. A group of lively students formed a dance party in the back gym to help the time go by faster and get them pumped up for their next game.

March 17th & 18th Senior Show

Don't Stop Us Now!

On March 17th and 18th, the class of 2006 gathered together after weeks of dedication and practice to display a variety of talent in the traditional senior show. The show entitled "Don't Stop Us Now," a song by the '80s rock band Queen, sold out the auditorium for both nights. The seniors engulfed themselves in colors of red, yellow, and orange to represent the everlasting inferno, which they had deemed themselves during their junior year. A myriad of skits were performed throughout the night including comedy, dance, singing, and impersonation. The senior class opened the show with a number choreo-graphed to the Beastie Boys' "Fight for Your Right (to Party)" and closed the show with "Don't Stop Us Now." Curtain call was to the class song "Don't Stop Believin'" by Journey. The show, directed by Jennifer Bauduccio and Mrs. Suzanne Kelley, turned out to be a complete success for the class of 2006.

1. Matt Jordan, Andrew Goodreau, and Jacob Stokowski show great emotion while performing a choreographed dance in the boys' number entitled, "Men in Tights." The boys dressed in white T-shirts, burlap tunics, and green tights.

2. Christina Amaral and Rachel Spirito show off their dance moves to Nancy Sinatra's "These Boots are Made for Walkin'." A rendition of the girls' number was performed during the second act with quite a few boys joining in, dancing in short jean shorts and white shirts accompanied by cowgirl boots and hats.

3. Jacob Bruschi portrays a "gangsta" student in "Trapped in E.D.," a cover of R. Kelly's "Trapped in the Closet" with new lyrics.

4. A group of girls gather backstage to capture a memorable moment with a photo before being called to stage for the opening number of "Don't Stop Us Now."

5. Backstage Paul Momnie and Ashley Petrolati rehearse their skit of the Saturday Night Live performance "The Perfect Cheer."

6. Ahmed Abdullah, one of the MCs of the night, performs a salsa dance before a crowd-pleasing introduction to the upcoming skits in the show.

Mystery Trip

A Trip to the Bronx Zoo

Rumors about the destination of the "mystery" trip circulated, so the seniors were positive that when they got on the bus on Tuesday morning, May 30th, they would be traveling into New York and arriving at the Bronx Zoo. As students got onto their bus, they were given $15.00 to eat at one of the outdoor food courts. When the bus traveled down the streets of Bronx, New York, and pulled into the parking lot of the Bronx Zoo, the students were not the least bit surprised. The seniors piled off a combined four buses into humid 80 degree weather. After waiting for tickets to be passed out, the seniors entered the gates of the Bronx Zoo to see wildlife ranging from lions and tigers to penguins and peacocks to gorillas and monkeys to camels and giraffes. Inside the zoo, students had access to a myriad of attractions including the children's zoo, skyfari, zoo shuttle, butterfly garden, monorail, camel rides, and a bug carousel. Although the majority of the senior class was separated from one another as soon as they passed through the gates, as each individual boarded the bus at 2:45 p.m., he or she looked as if he or she had made the best of the hot day. The class of 2006 certainly solved this mystery!

1. Joseph Metcalfe lies inside an overhead compartment on the way to the Bronx Zoo. Joe crawled from the back of the bus to the front while inside the compartment.

2. Steven Oliveira glances over a map of the Bronx Zoo while trying to navigate his way to various attractions without getting lost along the way.

3. Allison Prokop stares through a telescope hoping to catch a glimpse of the wildlife.

4. Shawn Gomes and Marc Santos "monkey" around with some masks outside one of the gift shops at the zoo.

5. Claudia Filipe, Amber Carroll, and Melissa Dion get close to one another knowing that this will be the last school field trip the three will ever go on together.

6. Nicholas Chaplin, Chris Benoit, Marc Dias, Jeff Correia, Marc Santos, Monique Goodrow, Nick Gomes, Claudia Crespo, Anita Alves, and Jared Baillargeon sit under some shade to cool off from the humid 80 degree weather.

Class Night

*Scholarships,
Awards, and Speeches*

For the first time in their lives, the members of the class of 2006 put on their caps and gowns to kick off the pre-graduation ceremonies with a night of scholarships, awards, and speeches at Class Night, an annual ceremony held in the auditorium. A myriad of scholarships and awards was presented to various students based on academic achievement, school involvement, community service, character, and financial need. Principal Gordon Smith began the night with a speech congratulating the class for all its members had accomplished. Following his speech, he handed the podium and microphone over to William Dias who addressed his class as the salutatorian. The president of the class, Anita Alves, also addressed her fellow classmates. Following the scholarships, awards, and speeches, the seniors presented their parents with sentimental letters of gratitude. The night concluded with a slide show of pictures of each senior in the past and present.

1. Nicole Potter, Allison Prokop, and Caryn Lecca embrace each other with high spirits, knowing that the end is near.

4. Nicole Coelho hugs her mother after giving her the letter she wrote thanking her for all she has done over the years.

2. Principal Gordon Smith presents Nicholas Chaplin with the Mondry Scholarship for baseball. The scholarship was established in memory of Paul Mondry, who once was a baseball coach.

5. Andrew Coelho receives a $500 scholarship from the Ludlow Chamber of Commerce. This scholarship was also given to three other students: Lauren Cotti, Leigh-Ann Malke, and Amanda Marques.

3. Nicole Gaylord and Catherine Coley both receive a scholarship from the Ludlow Fire Department.

6. Salutatorian William Dias gives his final address to his fellow classmates, reminiscing about his high school experience.

Senior Farewell

Good-bye to You

As the class of 2006's high school career came to an end, many events were held in its honor including Senior Farewell. The assembly opened with students of the junior class walking through the rose archway, followed by the seniors dressed in their caps and gowns. Senior Farewell was hosted by the president of the class of 2007 Mathew Lopata, who brought the audience through three touching slideshows of elementary school and middle school memories, baby and senior pictures, and high school memories. The flashbacks were shown with touching and sentimental music playing in the background. The senior concert choir also performed the famous "Seasons of Love" and of course there was the anticipated comedy skits by the juniors, which imitated members of the senior class. The class ballot was read as well as a unique poem about the class history at Ludlow High. Vice-president Jesse Oliveira presented the class of 2006 gift, which was an electronic scroll message board for the cafeteria. The passing of the peace pipe occurred between class presidents Anita Alves and Lopata. Emotions ran high as Senior Farewell came to an end with the "Lighting the Way" candle ceremony. Everyone leaving the auditorium was moved by the ceremony.

1. Senior Amanda Holley reads the class poem she wrote entitled "A Beginning's End."

2. Juniors Brett Provost and Mike Czupryna perform during the comedy skit.

3. The auditorium glowed during the Lighting the Way candle ceremony for the departing seniors, who were all saddened to see the ceremony come to an end, knowing that graduation was only a day away.

4. Juniors Ashley Labier and Peter Vomero imitate Senior Show's "The Perfect Cheer."

5. Juniors Brett Provost and Patrick Mahoney give a convincing performance depicting what occurs in Mr. Stephen Marino's office.

6. Led by the Secretary Joesph Metcalfe and Treasurer Melissa Dion, the seniors proceed through the rose archway held by the officers of the class of 2007.

June 1st

Senior Banquet

One Last "Hoo-Rah"

The night before graduation, June 1st, the class of 2006 gathered together at Adelphia's Restaurant and Banquet Hall in South Hadley for one last "hoo-rah" before parting ways. As members of the class walked into the banquet hall, they were entranced by the dim lit room and set-up all around. As everyone came in, some seniors took their seats while others grouped together to capture memorable moments with a picture. After everyone had finally arrived, a buffet was set up in the center of the dance floor for all to enjoy. After eating a delicious variety of food, the class was mystified by surprise entertainment Magician Alex Sawecki. Sawecki showed off a myriad of tricks using playing cards, popsicle sticks, and money. The class of 2006 then made its way to the dance floor where the seniors spent the remainder of the night laughing and dancing together for one last time to the music provided by DJ Dynamics.

1. Brian Serrazina, Clarence Kauila, Kyle Kellogg, and Arianne Hutchins make their way to the dance floor to show off their moves.

2. Elizabeth O'Donnell, Stephanie Singleton, and Monique Goodrow display their excitement for the night ahead.

3. [Clockwise left to right] Stephanie Carvalho, Derek Duchesne, Jon Rodrigues, Courtney Roberts, Justine Pereira, and Toni Cordello formed one of the many groups who sat together during the night.

4. Justin Martins is baffled by Magician Alex Sawecki as he ties a popsicle stick through the button of Justin's shirt.

5. The food, catered by Adelphia's in South Hadley, included roasted chicken, seasoned potatoes, ziti, salad, rolls, meatballs, rice, and cake for dessert.

6. Magician Alex Sawecki shocked the senior class as he displayed his magical talents throughout the night keeping seniors entertained who weren't dancing.

Graduation

The Final Walk...

On Friday, June 2, the class of 2006 assembled together for one last event before departing as individuals on their own paths. For many soon-to-be graduates, this night would be the walk to remember. As seniors walked into the Mullins Center and converged onto the stage, the symphony band under direction of Ms. Cynthia Koch, played "Pomp and Circumstance." Soon after, the concert choir, directed by Mrs. Mary-Beth Will, sang America's National Anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." The sound of music continued as the senior members of the concert choir melodiously sang "For Good" from the hit Broadway show "Wicked."

As the night when on, students listened to advice from fellow classmates and administrators before being handed their diplomas. The first speaker of the night, valedictorian Corrine Ryan, gave an inspirational farewell address, stating, "Up until tonight, we may not have literally worn the same shoes, but we have all walked the same path through the doors of Ludlow High School, each one of us a changed, more mature person than when we first arrived." Following the first inspirational speech, the band played, "America the Beautiful" written by Samuel Ward, as senior Mia Santos gave verbal tribute to alumni and present Ludlow residents who have served for the United States Armed Forces.

Continued...

The night continued with the graduation message by Anita Alves, the class president. After Principal Gordon Smith presented fifteen awards for academic honors and athletics, Mr. James Harrington, chairman of the Ludlow School Committee, gave his own advice to the graduating class. Dr. Theresa Kane, superintendent of schools, then went on to formally present the Class of 2006. Then, the much anticipated moment that many of the students had waited for finally arrived. As former Spanish teacher Mr. Paulo Zina read the names of students, Mr. James Harrington awarded diplomas to students who anxiously waited in line for the their keys to the free world.

When all the students had received their reward for thirteen years of labor, president Anita Alves ceremoniously led the switching of the tassels from right to left, marking the sign of newly made graduates. Students celebrated on stage with items ranging from air horns to confetti to silly string to beach balls, not to mention streamers and bubbles. After the celebration had died down a bit, newly-made graduate Matthew Harrington sang the Alma Mater. The night proceeded with the recession to "Music for a Ceremony" as a new alumni walked off the Mullins Center stage into what could be declared as a new world.

Congrats, Grads!

Best of Luck

1. Matthew Harrington sings the Alma Mater by himself, shortly after receiving his diploma from his uncle, Mr. James Harrington, chairman of the Ludlow School Committee.

2. Adam Guyette, Justin Oliveira, and Richard McCormick III walk proudly off the stage at the Mullins Center with their diplomas.

3. Matthew Jordan and Stacy Aleixo are paired together to walk in for the graduation ceremonies. The order of the lines was determined by height.

4. Ashley Petrolati, Leigh-Ann Malke, Amanda Vigneault, and Katelyn Dolan reminisce about past childhood memories in the tunnel before the ceremonies begin.

5. The class valedictorian Corrine Ryan receives an award for academic excellence from Principal Gordon Smith.

6. The senior concert choir, directed by Mrs. Mary-Beth Will, sings "The Star Spangled Banner" as everyone in attendance stands for the playing of the National Anthem.

Words cannot express how proud we are of you!

Shawn,

Son, when you came into the world, you were irresistible and you were very loved. Before long you were a small adventurer, scrambling all over the place. You were cute, curious, and ready for anything, and you were very loved. Then time seemed to speed up, and you were changing fast. You became a young teenager: funny, independent, and a little mysterious, and you loved. Now you're starting a new chapter in your life. Son, may you always have friends to share your journey, hope to light each mile, work that hones your talents, love that warms your smile, wisdom for your problems, comfort for your grief, goals that are a challenge, and dreams that take you far. You're a strong, confident, caring person any parent would be proud of and you'll always be very, very loved.

*We Love You!

Elizabeth,

From the day you were born you brought so much joy to my life. I am so proud of you. Your drive and determination have helped you overcome many challenges with a spirit I admire. Keep laughing, Elizabeth, and know you will always have Dad watching over you. We love you and will always be there for you.

Mom and Matt

Leigh-Ann Malke

These years have passed too quickly! It's hard to imagine you are already going off to college. It seems like yesterday that you were learning to ride your bike in St. John's parking lot or running beside the little "50" dirt bike in our backyard. There were dance recitals, soccer tournaments, cheerleading competitions, and, of course, "knee surgery." You have made us so proud of all that you've accomplished and the bright, beautiful young woman you've become.

The time has come for you to spread your wings and follow your dreams. Time is precious and life is short, so reach for the stars and live each day to the fullest. No matter where your journey takes you, know that we will always be there to support you with our unconditional love.

*Congratulations!
Love always,

A Walk to Remember

The Journey into Adulthood . . .

As we exit the doors of Ludlow High School, we begin the journey into adulthood. In adulthood, we are lions in a big jungle, where everything we learned finally makes sense. Although high school was sometimes painful, the memories we look back on heal the pain and cover the wounds. So as we walk out the same doors we walked into on August 28th, 2002, we think back on how the cubs we were are now lions finally ready to go out and live life. So, class of 2006, don't ever forget that final walk out those doors, which clearly was, a walk to remember.

I can clearly remember being in room E207 at the end of the school year 2003-2004, my sophomore year, and Jung Kang, the future editor for the 2005 yearbook, coming in and begging someone in the honors English class to join the yearbook staff. She was hoping to find a junior editor. My first thought when she approached me, no way am I joining another club; yearbook must take up too much time. The following year, my junior year, I remember talking with one of my friends who had joined the yearbook staff. Somehow she convinced me to go to a meeting. My first thought on the club: I was completely wrong, yearbook will just be like any other club; I go to a few meetings and help out when I can. Let's just say, that observation was soon destroyed when I actually started helping out. As junior editor, I learned that yearbook involved staying in school until after the last day to finish what was started, coming in during vacations, and staying late at night when even the janitors have decided to turn in. As senior year rolled around, I tried to convince myself that the yearbook would be done a week after graduation. All the pages would be complete and I wouldn't be locked inside the school until July. Just so you know, July - still working on the yearbook, just finishing touches, but still in the school typing on the computers and inputting pictures.

The first meeting I called to order, about fifteen interested people, possible future members, came to room C103. How many actually stayed dedicated to the yearbook throughout the year? Seven. Seven dedicated people decided to join the yearbook staff.

Sophomore Nevin Xavier, the junior business manager and my assistant to say the least, I can not say enough about. Nevin can be credited with coming up with the title and theme of the book when I was all out of ideas, didn't like the one I first chose, and it was December and we were in desperate need for one. Whenever I needed anything, a phone call to be made, layouts for a page, help in redoing an entire section, a person to stay with me and finish up pages before a deadline, Nevin was there to lend a helping hand. Even though he is only a sophomore now, by the time he is editor of his own yearbook, Nevin will know everything there is to know about yearbook. His will be amazing.

My fellow classmates, Katelyn Dolan, business manager, Mia Santos, sports manager, and Amanda Grondin, page editor, I can not thank all of you enough. Kate, I am so grateful for your help with community, mailings, and help with tracking down things for the sports pages. Mia, your task of completing the sports section is so complex. I'm thankful in so many ways for all the work you did on your pages, especially on the head shots, which seemed always to cause problems. Amanda, you are one of my best friends and if you didn't offer to help me this past March and join the staff I don't know that Nevin alone would have been able to keep me sane. You came through more than enough times to help with tracking down pictures, writing me sentimental stories, and just keeping me company.

Future editor, Brianna Arnold, I wish you nothing but the best of luck next year with the book. Don't procrastinate on things! Sophomore Jerica McCarthy, I can honestly say that I don't know what I would have done without your writing ability this year. You came through on a numerous occasions to write stories for this book.

Mrs. Suzanne Kelly, yearbook advisor, I can not thank you enough for dealing with all my procrastination on this book. I'm sure at times you may have just wanted to throw up your hands and go home on late nights correcting and editing pages, but you didn't. Enjoy your retirement!

Furthermore, I would like to thank Steinmetz Photography who with a last minute phone call was on site to take pictures at any school event we needed them for. Also, Jung Kang deserves a special thanks for coming in after she finished her studies at UMass Amherst to help me out.

To the class of 2006, each individual is certainly one of a kind. I wish you all nothing but the best of luck in your future endeavors!

Love always,
